

CALL FOR ENTRIES: Youth Culture in the Bay

Southern Exposure invites teen and young Bay Area Artists to submit new visual work about youth culture for a juried exhibition, curated by the Youth Advisory Board. Youth have long been regarded as a peripheral footnote in the art world, and yet youth culture is highly influential. Southern Exposure centers their voices and invites the Youth Advisory Board, a team of curators ages 16-18, to choose works that are emblematic of youth culture now. Work can be in any media and represents the most cutting edge, freshest voices of the Bay Area. For the purposes of this exhibition, we are looking at current Youth Culture identified by Gen Z, defined by some as being born between the mid 1990's and early 2000's.
