May 23, 2016, San Francisco, CA – Southern Exposure is pleased to announce its famous annual Monster Drawing Rally, a live drawing event and fundraiser that will take place on Friday, June 24, 2016 at Minnesota Street Project.

Over the course of the night, 120 artists at all stages of their careers take shifts to draw for an hour in front a live audience, bringing their private studio practices to the public. As spectators spy on the creative process, sketches morph into full-fledged artworks made from collage, watercolor, ink, and graphite or even performative acts. Finished drawings are immediately available for $75 each. We'll share the growing roster of participating artists weekly, starting on May 31.

The Monster Drawing Rally is an integral part of Southern Exposure's mission to make art and artists more accessible. This annual gathering is a fantastic way to view new talent, interact with the Bay Area's artistic community and support Southern Exposure's programming all at once.

DJs will spin music for drawing and dancing all night long. Curbside food will be available for purchase from Slider Shack. Special thanks to New Belgium Brewing Company for their generous beverage donation.

To date, over a thousand artists have taken part in Southern Exposure's Monster Drawing Rallies, donating their talent, time, and artwork to the organization. And hundreds of people have become art patrons by purchasing work at the Rallies, helping to support the community of artists we serve. Southern Exposure proudly shares the Monster Drawing Rally as an open source fundraising model with a growing network of artist centered organizations nationally. Participating organizations include The Armory Center for the Arts in Pasadena, Midway Center for Contemporary Art in Minneapolis, 1708 Gallery in Richmond, MOCAD in Detroit and Spaces in Cleveland.
